Shriners serve fez-tastic lunch to hospital staff

The Shriners Children's Ohio Board of Governors hosted a summer appreciation cookout for our staff. For the second year, the nobles grilled summer favorites like hotdogs and hamburgers. The Shriners also invited our friends at Dayton Children's Hospital to grab a bite as well!

‘Such a big difference:’ Local family among many Shriners helps with cleft lip

The Dayton Daily News featured a story on 5-month-old Case and his parents, Quentin and Amanda. When they found out Case would be born with a cleft lip, they turned to Shriners Children's Ohio for a treatment plan. Dr. Salim Mancho performed Case's cleft repair surgery.

As you can see from everyone's smiles, they are happy with the results! The news story was published during Cleft and Craniofacial Awareness and Prevention Month to highlight a local family's experience and why they trusted us with their son's surgery. Click here to read the full story.

SCO hosts clinic to connect patients, families with ancillary services

There were no shortage of smiles at our craniofacial clinic Wednesday, July 26. Families had the chance to meet with Dr. Gordon and Dr. Mancho, our care coordinators, and a registered dietician. Families could also learn more about ancillary services like speech therapy without setting up a separate appointment.

(Left) Eight-year-old Kayson charmed all of us with his adorable smile! He and his family drove up from Alabama to meet with Dr. Gordon and the nurse care managers to discuss the next steps in his treatment plan. Kayson's mom told us she feels "blessed be to in the care of Shriners" and is "already looking forward to our next visit.

All-star patient shines at all-star football game

16-year-old Patient Ambassador Owen represented Shriners Children's Ohio at an Indiana football game featuring the best high school players in the Hoosier state. Owen walked on the field during the ceremonial coin toss for the Murat Shrine North/South Football Classic. He also shared a little bit of his burn recovery journey to inspire the high school athletes, referees and parents before kick-off.
